CASUALTIES MOUNT TO HUNDREDS FROM THREE-DAY TYPHOON

Twenty Thousand Estimated to Be Homeless in One Province of Luzon Island—Flood Waters Bring Threat of Epidemics With Many Towns and Villages Inundated

MANILA, Oct. 13 (P).—Casualties in Luzon Island's three-day typhoon stood officially tonight at 232 dead and more than 600 missing. The number of homeless persons in Nueva Ecija Province, where the storm hit hardest, was estimated at 20,000. Relief authorities feared disease epidemics would develop.

Unofficial reports indicated the death list probably would reach 400. Many of the missing apparently perished.

Every relief agency in the stricken region, centering about 100 miles north of Manila, went into action.

FLOODS LIKE SEA

Major General Paulino Santos, Philippine army chief of staff, surveyed the flooded Pampanga River Valley by air and said it resembled a broad sea. A Pampanga River dike broke today. Ten persons drowned and fifty houses were destroyed.

All towns and villages in the valley were inundated. In some places the flood water was twenty feet deep. Nearly all crops and livestock in the flooded area were destroyed.

Flood waters, rising as the result of terrific rain brought by the typhoon, offered the main disease threat. They ran through a narrow channel.

CHARGE BRINGS REPLY IN KIND

French Leftists Accuse Germany of Meddling in Republic's Affairs

PARIS, Oct. 13 (P).—Germany's official protest that a French Communist leader had "insulted" Adolf Hitler, evoked counter-charges from French Leftists tonight that the Reich had "meddled" in French internal affairs.

The Communist party called Germany's action an "intolerable intrusion," and announced it would publish the full text of the speech by the party's secretary-general, Maurice Thorez, which German officials said contained remarks derogatory to Hitler.

MAY BE EXCUSE

The German protest, delivered by its charge d'affaires at Paris to a French Foreign Office official, led to fears that Germany might seek to attend any further Locarno conference.

The German Embassy in Paris tonight gave out only that it expected an early French reply to its charge that Hitler had been held up to serious ridicule.

The embassy had charged: 1. That Thorez said French Communists "prefer an honorable negro to a dishonorable Hitler," and 2. That the Communists had displayed caricatures showing Hitler, with a gleaming bulbous nose, holding a bloody knife in clenched teeth as he sat atop the crumbling pillars of "culture, religion and art."

NOTHING UNUSUAL

To this, French Leftists replied that, after all, Communists in every nation on the globe delighted in unkind caricatures of Hitler, so why should the French Communists be singled out.

The French Communist party's statement, to be published here, is expected to say that Thorez merely read certain passages from Hitler's autobiographical "Mein Kampf."

C.C.F. Will Seek Mayoralty Chair

VANCOUVER, Oct. 13 (P).—The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, after October 22, will nominate a mayoralty candidate to contest the forthcoming Vancouver civic elections. It was announced today by A. Johnston, of the federation's regional committee. It was previously announced that the federation would not contest the mayoralty election. Aldermanic candidates have already been named, however.

Ship Ashore on Rocks Near Golden Gate

Listing badly as heavy swells pounded her port side, the ill-fated $350,000 freighter Ohion, graphically pictured around on rocks near the Golden Gate, is believed in danger of breaking in half. Members of the crew of thirty-eight were taken ashore in lifeboats before ocean and visibility conditions forced temporary suspension of rescue and salvage operations. The freighter crashed in a dense fog at midnight, October 7.

Racing Reporter Leaves Manila Two Weeks Out From New York

MANILA, Oct. 14 (P).—The Hawaiian Clipper, trans-Pacific seaplane, hopped off at dawn today, en route to Alameda, Cal., with H. R. Ekins, one of the three newspapermen racing around the world by established means of transportation, aboard.

Ekins was far ahead of his two competitors, Dorothy Kilgallen and Leo Kieran. They expected to reach here in time to make the flight from Manila to Alameda aboard the China Clipper which was scheduled to leave here Friday, but because it was delayed two days at Wake Island due to a typhoon in this area, probably will leave a day or two later. Ekins, Miss Kilgallen and Kieran left New York together aboard the Hindenburg on the night of September 30.

Severe Weather Enforces Lull in Spanish Warfare

Government Draining Last Resources of Manpower for Defence of Madrid—Cripples and Semi-Invalids Organized in Separate Reserve Unit—Moscow Thanked for Aid

MADRID, Oct. 13 (P).—The Government, draining its last resources of manpower, tonight mustered into the defence reserves all men who could shoulder a rifle. Cripples and semi-invalids, physically unfit to be drafted into forces sent to the front, were to be organized in a separate reserve unit.

Recruiting committees also scattered through the city trying to shame upper strata youths into enlistment, particularly the so-called "seniority" class, which so far has taken no active part.

Rain driven on wintry winds enforced a lull in the fighting on both sides in the Madrid area, giving the Government breathing space in which to strengthen its defences closest to the city.

MADRID, Oct. 13 (CP-Havas).—The Spanish Government tonight publicly acknowledged its gratitude to the Soviet Union for recent gifts of money and food.

SPENT NIGHT ON MOUNTAIN LEDGE

Two Young Boys Safe After Becoming Lost in Fog on North Shore

DARTMOUTH, N.S., Oct. 13 (P).—John Smeltzer was back at his waterfront job today, saved from drowning by a rubber coat. Smeltzer, unable to swim, was tossed into the water from his boat during a storm. His coat ballooned out and held him above water, while Jack Boutillier made a noise in a length of rope and lassoed him, hauling him to safety.

FINED FOR SELLING THEIR MEAT TOO DEAR

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Oct. 13 (P).—After several unsuccessful attempts and many weeks of sitting on a single egg, two lyrebirds, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Coyne of Springwood, N.S.W., have hatched what is believed by naturalists to be the first lyrebird incubated in captivity.

Village Is Threatened By Flames

CARP, Ont., Oct. 14 (P).—This village was threatened with destruction early today when fire broke out in the Dooley business block and spread to nearby stores and dwellings. There was no water supply for hoses.

A drug store, restaurant, pool-room and several dwellings fell prey to the flames, and village authorities, fearing a major catastrophe, telephoned appeals for help to nearby Arnprior and Westboro.

Carp is about twenty-five miles southwest of Ottawa. Its population is about one thousand.

JAPAN AROUSED TO LOAN REPORT

Tokio Fears Extension of British Credits to China Would Hit Plans

TOKIO, Oct. 13 (P).—The Japanese Government was aroused tonight by reports of a British loan to China, fearful such a loan might be intended for currency reform or replenishment of Chinese armaments. Japanese officials, pushing their own programme of economic development in Manchukuo and penetrating into North China, explained that Tokyo does not object to a constructive loan to China to further rehabilitation of the country.

But they added, the Japanese Government will oppose vigorously any loan that might have political implications, or be intended for currency reform or replenishment of armaments.

ANGLO-CHINESE AIR PACT
Reports of the loan, advanced by informed observers here, were coupled also with rumors of an aerial development agreement between Britain and China.

The plan was not in the nature of a loan, these observers said, under which certain British industries would be able to export wares to China on long-deferred payments, might be announced shortly.

"The plan was not in the nature of a loan, these observers said, China would be required to provide adequate guarantees and collateral in connection with the scheme."

SEKS END TO RACIAL FIGHTS

QUEBEC, Oct. 13 (P).—Premier Maurice Duplessis, making his first speech in the Quebec Legislative Assembly as Premier, today asked for co-operation in putting into law the reforms planned by the Union Nationale Government and an end to racial animosities.

While the Premier spoke in the debate on the Growth from the Throne, the order paper of the Legislature bristled with notices of Government motions to repeal laws enacted by the Liberal Government of former Premier Taschereau.

Decide Battleships Not to Be Replaced By Bombing Planes

Imperial Defence Committee Comes to Unanimous Opinion in Favor of Continued Value of Capital Ship—"Supreme at Sea"

EDINBURGH, Oct. 13 (P).—Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, in a speech here tonight announced the sub-committee of the committee of imperial defence, which investigated the "Battleship versus Aircraft" question, had unanimously recommended in favor of the capital ship and against the substitution of bombing planes.

SINGLE DEFENCE SERVICE
The committee's recommendation was based on a common understanding of the services and power-motors organs have had time to develop. Without this common foundation such a ministry would be nothing more than a paper nuisance.

In the course of invention and discovery, the First Lord added, the duties of the three services might tend more and more to approximate each other. "If ships and armies do not create a real ministry of defence, they will not create a real ministry of defence."

"You can pass an Act of Parliament and call it the 'Ministry of Defence Act,' he said, 'but you will not create a real ministry of defence.'"

MOSLEYITES UNDER FIRE

Communists Appeal to Government for Dissolution Of Fascist Party

LONDON, Oct. 13 (CP-Havas).—The British Communist party tonight formally appealed to the Government to dissolve the Fascist party headed by Sir Oswald Mosley, as police investigated a mysterious incendiary fire in the Blackshirts' London headquarters building.

Home Secretary Sir John Simon received the Communist protest on the eve of tomorrow's Cabinet meeting, which is expected to take decisive action regarding Communist-Fascist disorders in Great Britain.

WORK OF INCENDIARIES
The fire at Fascist headquarters in Bethnal Green was the work of incendiaries, according to a witness. Shortly before dawn, the witness said, a car with all lights out was driven up to the building and two men leaped out, doused the entrance with liquid from a large can, and fled in the car. Soon afterwards flames leaped up from the front of the building.

The witness, a young woman on her way home, turned in an alarm and brought fire engines to the scene. Meanwhile the cries of neighbors awakened a family in an apartment above the Blackshirts' headquarters. They were aided by a young man who, according to witnesses, apparently had been waiting to fulfill this mission.

DASHES INTO BUILDING
As two other men fled, he dashed into the building and helped the family into the street with their two-year-old child, then disappeared before he could be identified.

TRY SCRIP PLAN
KITCHENER, Ont., Oct. 13 (P).—City council here tonight heard the first proposal of its special committee for the issue of interest-bearing bonds as a form of scrip to be used for local circulation.

The bonds would be issued as part payment of municipal salaries and wages and would require affixing of a two-cent stamp on a certain day each week. A subsequent report will be made by the committee before council is asked to pass on the proposal.

CHILD LOSES FINGERS
PLAYING WITH CAPS
SASKATOON, Oct. 13 (P).—Two fingers were missing from a hand of a five-year-old Rebekah Lewson, of nearby Hepburn today, the result of using dynamite caps for toys. The caps got cold and he put them in the kitchen stove to warm. They exploded.

BOUND OVER FOR TRIAL
The jury disagreed. Valentine and his co-defendants, John Saunders, Lewis, school teacher, were bound over for trial at the next Assizes.

Specifically, they were charged with causing $10,000 damage by burning buildings of the Royal Air Force bombing school at Fwellthel, Wales.

Suddenly-festive crowds of Welsh folk carried the defendants on their shoulders to the street after the trial.

The street demonstrations climaxed a day of testimony in which the defendants insisted their confessed incendiaries had been made necessary by a British Government "threat against the nationalism and peace-loving beliefs of the Welsh people."

LOST WOMAN IS FOUND BY INDIANS
Mrs. Myrtle Phillips, Recovering From Exposure After Two Days on Mountain

LILLOOET, B.C., Oct. 13 (P).—Mrs. Myrtle Phillips, wife of Alex Phillips, proprietor of the "Summer" resort at Alou Lake, today was safe at Pavilion, twenty-six miles north of here, after being lost for two days on Pavilion Mountain.

Mrs. Phillips went out alone Sunday to shoot grouse with a .22 calibre rifle. Returning down the mountain, she became lost and spent the night alone in the woods. A posse, led by British Columbia Police and her husband, combed the mountain all day yesterday.

Indians picked up her trail last night. They found her suffering from exposure and hunger and brought her to Pavilion, where she quickly recovered.

Urge Establishment Of Training Schools For Boys and Girls

Commission Investigating Penal Institutions Told Teaching of Trades Would Go Far Toward Curbing Juvenile Delinquency

CHARLOTTETOWN, Oct. 13 (P.)—Establishment of a training school where boys and girls might be taught a trade, was advocated today by speakers at a public hearing held by the Royal Commission investigating penal institutions in Canada.

Such a school, said the speakers, Major T. Edgar MacNutt, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, and Col. Keith S. Rogers, would go far toward curbing juvenile delinquency in Prince Edward Island.

The commissioners, Mr. Justice Joseph Archambault, of the Quebec Superior Court, and R. W. Craig, K.C., former Attorney-General of Manitoba, leave tomorrow for Dorchester, N.B., where they will continue interviewing prisoners at the only penitentiary in the Maritime Provinces.

TRADE SCHOOL NEEDED
"A fair proportion of our boys and girls are on their way to becoming delinquents if something is not done," said Col. Rogers. "There is need for a trade school. The province's educational system is largely along classical lines, leading to college courses. There is very little training for boys or girls who have not the capacity for a college education."

He suggested the Provincial Government might regard a training school as the first step in contributing to lessening delinquency. BAD PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECT
Both Colonel Rogers and Major MacNutt said stamping of training schools as "reform schools" had a bad psychological effect on boys who came from them.

Premier Thane Campbell said the Federal Department of Justice had designated the proposed training school as a purely provincial matter, he said, and his Government felt it was not justified in incurring the expenses entailed by immediate establishment of a farm.

Members of the crew of the ill-fated intercoastal freighter Ohiwa, are pictured in lifeboats after they abandoned ship. The Ohiwa ran aground on the rocks near San Francisco's Golden Gate, October 7, in a pea-soup fog. Hopes of salvaging the vessel faded when it was feared heavy ground swells would break the ship in half. The survivors were taken from the stricken ship under the supervision of Coast Guardsmen.

Large Lumber Mill Is to Be Reopened If Plans Successful

City Council Approves Sale of Reverted Property Back to Canadian Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Company, Limited, for $19,000

CANADIAN Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Company, Limited, sawmill is to be rebuilt. A shingle mill will be in operation on the property next month, and it is anticipated that when the main rig side of the mill is reconstructed in January, between 125 and 150 men will be employed, when present plans of the company are carried out.

At a meeting of the City Council last evening, an offer of $19,000 for the property was accepted from the original owners. The mill site reverted to the city for unpaid taxes several years ago and there was also a claim against the property by the Provincial Government. Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman of the council lands committee, stated the company had cleared up its indebtedness to the Government.

Under terms approved by the council, the company will pay $500 cash on completion of an agreement with the city, $200 on January 31, and the balance in monthly payments of $1,000 each, with interest of 5 per cent per annum on the unpaid balance. Taxes for the year amounting to $1,200, will also be paid. The company is prepared to immediately proceed with construction of a shingle mill and rehabilitation of the property when the agreement is signed.

SAVING TO CITY
Alderman Dewar pointed out sale of the property would save the city between $300 and $400 per month in taxes and water charges. He asked the city solicitor to incorporate a clause in the agreement to the effect that the company repair the large water tower on the property.

Permission was granted to F. A. E. Manning, president of Manning Lumber Mills, Limited, to apply for a building permit to install a floor in a building at 1910 Store Street, to be used as an all-electric sawmill. Work will cost $25,000. The structure is located between Producers' and C. P. & G. Lumber Companies. A recommendation of the water board that the city was not empowered to grant a special rate on mill properties.

It is expected fifteen men will be employed in the sawmill, but of about 25,000 feet of lumber per day. Next January it is hoped to double the operating crew and increase the cut. Lots 116, 131 and 132 on the west side of Store Street, were leased to Mr. Manning and his associates for $60 per month.

At the request of Alderman Archie Wills, S. H. O'Neil and Dewar, Greater Victoria committee, Acting Mayor James Adam will call a meeting of reeves and councillors of Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt in the near future to discuss matters of common interest.

TO BE DISCUSSED
Matters suggested for discussion include schools, police, fire, public works, water, electric light, inspection of buildings, sanitation, garbage collection, hospitals and public health, social services, children's aid, friendly help, homes for the aged, publicity and entertainment, population figures, survey of requirements in the way of public improvements for the next ten years, parks and sports grounds, beautification, transportation and British Columbia Agricultural Association. Questions relating to debt and taxes will be eliminated from preliminary discussions, and adjoining municipalities will not be asked to shoulder any portion of the city's debt.

On recommendation of the council finance committee, comprising Aldermen Dr. J. D. Hunter, T. W. Hawkins and Walter Loney, the council definitely decided not to appeal the Supreme Court decision restraining aid from carrying out the Charles S. Henley bond refunding scheme, as planned on August 31. After the original draft was objected to by the court, the scheme was revised. A letter from Mayor David Leeming, returning for reconsideration certain resolutions bearing on the original scheme, was referred to the city solicitor for report at the next council meeting.

In a letter read from F. A. Graham, reporting a public meeting of ratepayers held on October 7, was received and filed.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL
Possibility of a modern isolation hospital for Lower Vancouver Island was mentioned by Alderman

Hon. G. S. Pearson Pays Province's Tribute to Late J. P. Babcock

Sincere tribute was paid by the British Columbia Government yesterday to the late John Pease Babcock, whose sudden passing was learned of with sincere regret by all in the provincial service. Hon. G. S. Pearson, commissioner of fisheries for the Province, voiced the following tribute, on behalf of his department.

"Although I have only known Mr. Babcock during my own tenure of office, I feel his passing very deeply. He was a truly lovable character, and maintained his integrity interest in the scientific side of the fishing industry right to the last.

"The foundation he laid in this department has made it a great deal easier for me than it might have been, and has also made it possible to develop a successor who in course of time, may earn as enviable a reputation. We were really proud of Mr. Babcock," Mr. Pearson concluded.

APPEALS FOR BALANCE IN B.C. BUDGET

R. A. Wootton Tells Saanich Conservatives Taxation Must Come Down

BRIAN HOOLE AGAIN CHOSEN PRESIDENT

"Per capita costs of government in British Columbia rose from $14 in 1906 to $42 this year, while the population moved up from 200,000 to 700,000. Ratepayers of the province pay closer to $120 per head. That is a serious increase, especially when a larger population should bring lower taxation. To my mind it has got to stop, before industry and enterprise are taxed out of existence."

Robert A. Wootton declared before Saanich Conservatives last evening. Speaking as president of the British Columbia Conservative Association, Mr. Wootton said the Conservative party was pledged to genuine economy budget. Reduction in the size of the Legislature, practical methods of avoiding taxation increases, and a far-seeing policy of encouraging lumber, mines, fisheries and agriculture through reduction in existing imposts were other elements in a platform that would be formally announced in the party's manifesto before the next election, he said.

PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED
Balloting keenly for almost all offices, the Saanich District Conservative Association re-elected Brian Hoole as president for a third term. W. H. Carr was chosen first vice-president; Mrs. H. Laurie, second vice-president; H. A. Hunt, third vice-president, and Fred F. Felt as secretary-treasurer. Mrs. F. F. Osborne and Thomas Watson were named members at large, while A. R. Sherwood and W. H. Carr were reappointed auditors.

Brian Hoole and Leslie F. Osborne were announced as candidates who had consented to allow their names to go before a Saanich nominating convention to be held later in the year. The date of the convention, which is to select a provincial candidate in Saanich, will be considered at a further meeting on November 16.

A declaration by President Hoole that the Conservative party in British Columbia was "in the hands of legal monopoly," in that barristers figured largely in its chief officers, drew a fighting reply from President Wootton of the British Columbia executive, a barrister himself.

The meeting went on record as unanimously endorsing the programme laid down by the convention of 400 Conservative delegates at Vancouver last July, and added a cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Wootton for explaining steps taken since towards active reorganization within the province.

E. W. Maynard, past president of the Victoria Conservative Association, was also present.

Thieves broke into two offices in the Campbell Building over the holiday week-end. From the premises of Dr. Norman C. Cook they stole a quantity of cocaine and morphine, and took a gold ring with ruby setting and a gold crown valued at $10 from the office of Dr. A. H. Tanner. Detectives were informed of the robberies yesterday, and are investigating.

SEAATTLE, Oct. 13 (P.)—Still in a serious condition, Mrs. Helen Johnson, twenty-one, of Blaine, remained in Harborview County Hospital today as police tried to determine how she was hurt early yesterday.

Acting Detective Chief M. C. Scafford said he believed she was beaten and thrown from an automobile, although Mrs. Johnson, dazed and hardly able to talk, he said, told investigators she "walked out an apartment window" to resist a man's advances.

She was found with a back injury and wrist fracture in an alley behind a downtown apartment. Personnel in the building said she did not fall from a window.

SEAATTLE, Oct. 13 (P.)—Still in a serious condition, Mrs. Helen Johnson, twenty-one, of Blaine, remained in Harborview County Hospital today as police tried to determine how she was hurt early yesterday.

Acting Detective Chief M. C. Scafford said he believed she was beaten and thrown from an automobile, although Mrs. Johnson, dazed and hardly able to talk, he said, told investigators she "walked out an apartment window" to resist a man's advances.

She was found with a back injury and wrist fracture in an alley behind a downtown apartment. Personnel in the building said she did not fall from a window.

Latest in Radios Is Displayed by Victoria Dealers

Radio Show Week Draws Hundreds to View New 1937 Models—Many Advanced Features Give Added Pleasure in Reception—Displays Will Continue During the Whole Week

YESTERDAY saw the opening of Radio Show Week in Victoria. Hundreds of radio fans flocked to the radio stores of the city, eager to see the new 1937 models, many of which were displayed for the first time. Radio Show Week, inaugurated as a co-operative effort on the part of the local radio firms, in order to emphasize the sweeping advance found in the latest radios, will continue throughout the balance of the week.

Fletcher Brothers (Victoria) Limited have some beautiful models on display, featuring the RCA Victor, Marconi, Rogers and Philco lines. Outstanding among these and typical of the wonderful strides made in radio performance in the short thirteen years since it was first introduced is the handsome nine-tube, five-band automatic phonograph radio by RCA Victor. Beautiful cabinet work in walnut and Oriental veneers is found in a set which includes all the latest Victor features, such as the magic voice, a fit companion to the magic brain, and the magic eye, which have brought Victor to the fore. This model is a leader in a line that is complete from the dainty mantle set to the big de luxe twenty-two-tube model sets.

Kent's, 641 Yates Street, presents the RCA Victor, the Rogers, the Sparrow, the Philco and the Stromberg-Carlson. This latter, displayed in a full range of models of outstanding beauty and for which Kent's are sole dealers in Victoria, features the "acoustical labyrinth." This innovation has done much to eliminate distortion or exaggeration arising from the echo or rebound of sound or music from the interior of the cabinet. It has been perfected by the Stromberg-Carlson laboratories over a number of years of research and is exclusive to the line.

David Spencer Ltd., in the radio department on the lower main floor, displays RCA Victor magic voice radio and Northern Electric models. By means of actual demonstration, the marvelous tonal range of the new Victor is here proved beyond doubt. In listening to orchestral music this is particularly emphasized for the deep throbs of the bass drum and the trill of the piccolo are brought to the listener with absolute fidelity. This is a fine example of Victor's magic voice at its best. The fine cabinet work of the line is also shown to best advantage.

HE GETS ORDERS by LONG-DISTANCE TELEPHONE

WHILE competitors are writing letters or travelling in person, this man is using the long-distance telephone service to get orders from out-of-town customers. He finds it a quick and economical way to do business.

Of what importance is the quality of your product or the strength of your sales argument, he asks, if your competitor reaches the buyer first and makes the sale before you get there?

So this man makes a practice of "getting there first" by long-distance telephone.

Many Pay Final Tribute

THE LATE MRS. THOMAS H. LEEMING

Funeral services for Mrs. Thomas H. Leeming, daughter of Victoria, who passed away on Sunday morning after a brief illness, were held yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation of sorrowing friends. Very Rev. Cecil S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia, officiated, and the hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was sung. There was a profusion of beautiful flowers. Following the services, the remains were forwarded to Seattle for cremation.

TRIAL FINDING HELD CORRECT

Court of Appeal Confirms Four Years for Two Who Defrauded G. S. Andrus

The Court of Appeal yesterday concluded the review of the case in which James Miller and A. O. Armour were convicted by Judge A. M. Harper in Vancouver of having stolen approximately $5,000 by fraud from George S. Andrus, and sustained the sentence of four years imposed upon the two. The decision of the court was unanimous, with Mr. Justice Martin not sitting on the appeal.

In the case the two accused were shown to have conspired to defraud the victim of the plot of his money by inducing him to invest in what was supposed to be a sure chance of winning in a horse race of which the accused had previous knowledge as to which horse would be the winner.

C. Carmichael, who appeared with T. F. Hurley in defending the two accused, completed his argument yesterday morning, claiming that the victim, Andrus, had in the witness box testified that if a question were put to him which was too personal, he would not hesitate to lie, to commit perjury. It was on this man's evidence that the two were convicted, said Mr. Carmichael, who contended that there was no corroboration of his story.

CROWN'S CASE
W. S. Owen, for the Crown, in his summing up of the case, pointed out that the movements of the accused corresponded with the evidence of Andrus, and these movements were supported by hotel and rooming-house registers.

Chief Justice Macdonald felt the appeal should be dismissed. He was of the opinion there was plenty to corroborate the circumstances upon which the guilt of the two was established. Mr. Justice McPhillips agreed with the Chief Justice and said that the case was one in which all the earmarks of a plot having been laid to deceive the victim were present. He agreed with the conclusion of the trial judge. Mr. Justice M. A. Macdonald and Mr. Justice McQuarrie were in accord with the decision that the appeal should be dismissed.

REV. ALAN GREENE
SUPERINTENDENT of the Columbia Coast Mission, who is at present in Victoria with the mission's hospital ship, the Columbia and the Florida V. Mr. Greene, who has been associated with the mission for many years, will speak on his work at a meeting at the Memorial Hall this evening, and has an interesting story to tell, which will be illustrated with moving pictures in natural color.

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

Present: The Chief Justice, McPhillips and McQuarrie, J.J.A.
Sophia Dymond vs. Victoria Jane Wilson—In this case the plaintiff suffered injury as a result of a fall in consequence of the breaking of a veranda rail, which gave way as she came in contact with it. At the trial (1936) 50 B.C. 438, Robertson, J. dismissed the plaintiff's claim on the ground that she was a bare licensee—that there was no evidence of a "trap" or concealed danger, and assuming that the railing in its then condition constituted a trap, there was no evidence that the defendant knew of it. Plaintiff appealed, and the appeal is now being argued.
N. W. Whittaker for appellant; F. C. Elliott for respondent.

Today's pre-emptory list—Dymond vs. Wilson (at bar); Rex vs. Golden, Rex vs. Chuloff, Rex vs. Daynan.

MISSION WORK IS EXPLAINED

Rev. Alan Greene, of Columbia Service, Addresses Kiwanians

Colored motion pictures outlining the work being carried out by the Columbia Mission Service were shown to members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel by Rev. Alan Greene, superintendent of the service.

The mission service, said Mr. Greene, was started by Rev. John Antie in 1904, with one ship. It had grown in the thirty-two years of the service until it now embraced three hospitals, three ships, five medical doctors, four clergymen, fourteen nurses, five churches and several mission posts and schools, he told the clubmen.

ASKS FOR SUPPORT
The work was carried on through donations and he appealed to the clubmen to support any such device which might be opened in Victoria.

The new vessel to be placed in the service was in Victoria and he urged all the members to inspect it. With Southern base at Pender Harbor and Northern base at Alert Bay, the mission service operated from the Strait of Georgia to Cape Scott at the tip of Vancouver Island, Mr. Greene stated.

SHOW ACTUAL WORK
Many of the pictures showed the actual work of carrying medicine, treating patients and administering religious training and education to the settlers in the less frequented parts of the British Columbia and Island coast.

Radio played an important part in carrying on the work, while the Provincial and Dominion Governments assisted materially in the service.

Thanks to Mr. Greene were extended by Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle.

WILL SPEAK AT CUTLERS' FEAST

Hon. Vincent Massey to Reply to Toast at Ancient Sheffield Function

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 13 (P.M.)—Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, will respond to the toast to the guests at the Cutlery's Feast at Sheffield, Wednesday.

In splendor of appointments and in the importance of speeches often this three-century-old function is surpassed only by the Lord Mayor of London's banquet at the Guildhall. On Wednesday the master cutler, Colonel W. Toser, will preside, and Foreign Secretary Eden will be the chief speaker.

Mrs. Massey will be among the guests of the mistress cutler, who, while the men are feasting, will take tea and subsequently listen to the speeches from a balcony.

DELICATE PROBLEM
A delicate problem will arise next year when Mrs. Wills London will be the first woman Lord Mayor of Sheffield. No woman hitherto has attended the feast proper, but the absence of Sheffield's chief magistrate is almost unthinkable.

Miss Violet Markham, mayor in 1927 of the neighboring borough of Chesterfield, declined to attend merely as the mistress cutler's guest, but the cutlery company declined to depart from precedent.

Former Prime Minister R. B. Bennett was a guest at the feast a few years back.

PRICES FOR HALIBUT

Many Present at Last Rites for J. Parker Buckle

The funeral of the late J. Parker Buckle, well-known printer of this city, was held on Tuesday afternoon and attended by a large number of friends.

Rev. Dr. Gerald B. Switzer conducted the service, during which the hymn, "Abide With Me," was sung. Interment was made in Royal Oak Burial Park, with the following pallbearers: J. N. Wardell, R. R. Taylor (Reeve of Oak Bay), L. B. Bink, A. R. Mauger, T. Scott and W. Lukes.

BUYS PLANT FOR WILLOWS STUDIOS

A complete processing plant will be installed at the Willows Studios of Central Films, Ltd., Kenneth Bishop, president, announced here yesterday.

The producer has just returned from Hollywood, where he said he had purchased a developer and printer, two expensive pieces of equipment. They will be shipped here shortly, Mr. Bishop stated.

The installation of the new equipment is expected to save considerable time in local movie production, he claimed. Each day's takes will be printed immediately and will be available for projecting the next day. Retakes will thus be quicker, Mr. Bishop stated.

ASSIZE CASE IS DELAYED

Chief Justice Morrison Presiding at Fall Sitting in Victoria

The Fall assizes opened yesterday morning in the courthouse here, with Chief Justice Morrison, of the Supreme Court, presiding. The case of Herbert N. Osgood, charged with manslaughter arising out of the accident to the automobile which the accused was driving on the morning of September 5 and which resulted in the death of Eugene Rosin, one of the four riding in the car, was called, but was not proceeded with yesterday.

Herbert W. Davey, counsel for the accused, asked for an adjournment in view of the fact that he had been furnished with a list of five additional witnesses that were to be called at the trial and it was necessary for him to investigate this aspect of the case. He also added that while he was asking for an adjournment for a day, it was possible that he might have to ask for further postponement when court assembled this morning.

GRANTED APPLICATION
His Lordship said that any further adjournment, if asked for would have to be supported by affidavits.

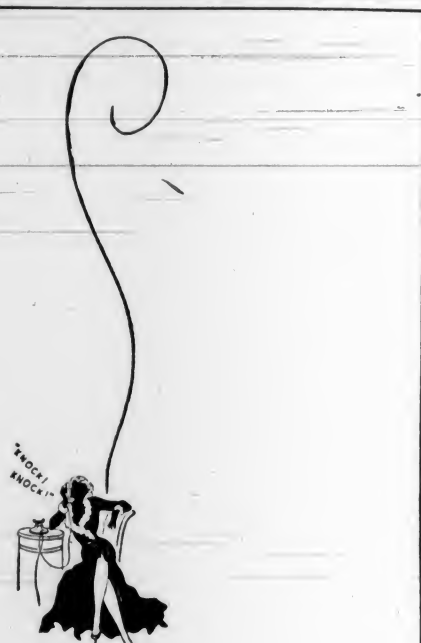

He would, however, grant the adjournment until today on his present application.

The jury were accordingly excused from attendance until this morning at 11 o'clock, when the court resumes its sittings.

Before the case of Rex vs. Osgood was called, M. B. Jackson, K.C., who is appearing for the Crown at the assize sitting, asked for the traversing of the case of Rex vs. William M. James, in which the accused is charged with having wounded his wife, with intent to murder her, until the next assize sitting. W. C. Moresby, K.C., appeared for the accused. The request was granted. A juvenile under charge also was traversed on the application of Mr. Jackson.

"That was a fine sentiment Casey expressed at the dinner last night," said Pat to his friend.

"What did he say?"
"He said that the sweetest memories in life are the recollections of things forgotten."

"Who's there?"
"Popeye!"
"Popeye who?"
"Popeye want some more Sweet Capri!"

Jane Dixon Says:

THE "FATHER OF FOUR" WHO USED THE ROD UNSPARINGLY ON HIS TWO DAUGHTERS, SIXTEEN AND SEVENTEEN, IS CONDEMNED IN THE MAJORITY OF LETTERS WHICH HIS CONDUCT INSPIRED.

Some time ago there appeared in this column the plaint of two girls, sixteen and seventeen. They feel that the discipline maintained by their parents amounts to persecution, that the rod wielded by an angry father on their backs for a minor infringement of rules is no longer a punishment, but a shameful abuse.

Letters have poured in from parents and from young folks, a few commending the rod wielders, but by far the vast majority condemning them. Because of the interest shown in the subject, I am presenting two letters today, typical of the many received.

My dear Miss Jane Dixon: I wonder if your "Father of Four" would be interested in knowing I am one of a family of five brothers and sisters, ranging in years from fifty to thirty-six.

I respected my father and loved him very dearly until the death of my mother some fourteen years ago. Then this same father who ruled us with the rod forgot all about self-discipline, and he has done everything to bring to the dust the name he taught us to respect by the use of the rod.

WHO NEEDS THE ROD NOW?

His favorite saying to us was: "If you can't go with those who are your equals, go by yourself; then you'll know who you're with."

I promised my mother in her last illness that I'd look out for our father, and I kept my word until he behaved so badly that because of my growing son, who worshipped him, I had to ask him to leave my home. I feared the dreadful influence he might have on my boy.

Now who do you think needs the rod—the young ones or the seventy-year-old father who can't keep a rein on himself?

I do hope the "Father of Four" will love his daughters and give them freedom to enjoy themselves while they are young so that they can appreciate being with him and can look back on their youth as a haven of affection, not as a horror of bodily punishment.—Mother of Two.

THE SECOND LETTER

Dear Miss Dixon: When I read about the "Father of Four" and the "spanking business" as told by his daughters in your column, my blood fairly boiled. How I'd like to meet that father and tell him what I think of his ilk.

Miss Dixon, you know that in this country of ours when girls of sixteen and seventeen are not allowed to remain at a nice social gathering until its normal ending, it is outrageous. If we lived in countries where the girls, poor things, were the property of their parents and even of brothers until marriage, and then became enslaved to their husbands, the case might be different.

I cannot understand how any mother or father could be brutish enough to beat grown girls because they happened to be a bit late at a party.

ENJOYED FREEDOM UNMOLESTED

I'm young myself, and have been going to parties with my girl and boy friends since I was fifteen. I was told by my parents never to stay out too late. I went to dances, and when they were over returned home. I went to beaches and stayed all day with boys and girls, swimming and playing games, and when I came home told my mother all about our good times. You know what my dear mother would say? "I'm glad you enjoyed yourself, dear. Have a good time while you're young."

With all these privileges I have as good a reputation as anyone. I know of no one who can truthfully say a harmful word about my character today. But do you know what the boys are saying about those poor, penniless creatures in the home of "Father of Four"? They're saying: "Sure would like to have a date with one of those Goody-Goodyes. When Goody-Goodyes get out, they really are something."

I know, "Father of Four," you'd like to use that rod on me, but I'm in my early twenties and am independent. I have a good job, make my own money, have graduated from high school and business school, and have a host of grand friends, both young men and women.

APPEALS TO "FATHER OF FOUR"

Please, "Father of Four," change your mind and give your young people a little rope instead of a big rod, or one of these days they'll slip out from under and all the rods in the land won't stop them.

"Girls of Sixteen and Seventeen." I hope you'll soon be free to live a normal life, and may God bless you both.—Ma.

These two letters certainly place "Father of Four" on the spot, don't they? But they are only mild examples of the indignation that has poured in on the wake of the "spank the rod and spoil the child" victims.

I hope "Father of Four" will come back with a defence of his system—if he has an adequate defence to offer.

IS PLEASED WITH TRAVEL

C. E. Stockdill, C.P.R. Executive, Reports Better Business in West

C. E. STOCKDILL

Expressing pleasure with the great volume of tourist travel to Vancouver Island this season, C. E. Stockdill, Winnipeg, assistant to the president of C.P.R. Western Lines, at the Empress Hotel, last night reported passenger travel business in the West was substantially better this year than last.

The mountain resorts of the company experienced their best business in four years, he added. "And we are anticipating that next year it will be as good or better."

As a result of increased travel, the Canadian Pacific Railway system has more men in the service than a year ago, Mr. Stockdill said, in answer to questions.

CREWS COMPETENT

Returning to the subject of more travel to the island, especially Victoria, the executive expressed pleasure with the way in which the company ships were able to handle the increased business. Mr. Stockdill was also pleased with the efficiency and competency of the men in bringing the steamships through the recent heavy fog and keeping so close to the daily schedule.

Asked about the Prairies, Mr. Stockdill replied: "As far as the Prairies are concerned, conditions are distinctly better than a year ago. Although the crop is not so big, the financial return is greater and the quality of grain is much better."

COMING TO COAST

"More money is coming into the Prairies, and business is keeping up remarkably well."

Prairie people are appreciating the Pacific Coast more and more as a haven during the extreme cold of the winter, he explained.

Mr. Stockdill plans to stay a few days in Victoria. "It is good to get back and see the flowers blooming again."

University Gives M.Sc. To Student

News was received here yesterday that William Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, 651 Trutch Street, while attending the Fall convocation at McGill University, was granted the Master of Science degree in neurology.

Mr. Gibson, who spent part of the summer holidays with his parents in Victoria, called on the Empress of Britain last Saturday from Quebec, to continue his studies on the brain at Oxford, where he hopes to take his Ph.D. next summer. It will be recalled that he came here from Spain, where he went in the early part of the summer to take special lectures in neurology at Sanfander University with one of the leading neurologists of the day. Owing to the revolution in that country the foreign students left, and Mr. Gibson spent the remainder of the summer here. If the troubles in Spain are settled by next year, he hopes very much to be able to return to Madrid.

Prior to entering Oxford University, Mr. Gibson spent a year in the neurological institute, McGill, under Dr. Wilder Penfield, and the granting of the M.Sc. degree was in recognition of the research work he did at that time.

Expressing pleasure with the great volume of tourist travel to Vancouver Island this season, C. E. Stockdill, Winnipeg, assistant to the president of C.P.R. Western Lines, at the Empress Hotel, last night reported passenger travel business in the West was substantially better this year than last.

The mountain resorts of the company experienced their best business in four years, he added. "And we are anticipating that next year it will be as good or better."

As a result of increased travel, the Canadian Pacific Railway system has more men in the service than a year ago, Mr. Stockdill said, in answer to questions.

CREWS COMPETENT

Returning to the subject of more travel to the island, especially Victoria, the executive expressed pleasure with the way in which the company ships were able to handle the increased business. Mr. Stockdill was also pleased with the efficiency and competency of the men in bringing the steamships through the recent heavy fog and keeping so close to the daily schedule.

Asked about the Prairies, Mr. Stockdill replied: "As far as the Prairies are concerned, conditions are distinctly better than a year ago. Although the crop is not so big, the financial return is greater and the quality of grain is much better."

COMING TO COAST

"More money is coming into the Prairies, and business is keeping up remarkably well."

Prairie people are appreciating the Pacific Coast more and more as a haven during the extreme cold of the winter, he explained.

Mr. Stockdill plans to stay a few days in Victoria. "It is good to get back and see the flowers blooming again."

THE "FATHER OF FOUR" WHO USED THE ROD UNSPARINGLY ON HIS TWO DAUGHTERS, SIXTEEN AND SEVENTEEN, IS CONDEMNED IN THE MAJORITY OF LETTERS WHICH HIS CONDUCT INSPIRED.

Some time ago there appeared in this column the plaint of two girls, sixteen and seventeen. They feel that the discipline maintained by their parents amounts to persecution, that the rod wielded by an angry father on their backs for a minor infringement of rules is no longer a punishment, but a shameful abuse.

Letters have poured in from parents and from young folks, a few commending the rod wielders, but by far the vast majority condemning them. Because of the interest shown in the subject, I am presenting two letters today, typical of the many received.

My dear Miss Jane Dixon: I wonder if your "Father of Four" would be interested in knowing I am one of a family of five brothers and sisters, ranging in years from fifty to thirty-six.

I respected my father and loved him very dearly until the death of my mother some fourteen years ago. Then this same father who ruled us with the rod forgot all about self-discipline, and he has done everything to bring to the dust the name he taught us to respect by the use of the rod.

WHO NEEDS THE ROD NOW?

His favorite saying to us was: "If you can't go with those who are your equals, go by yourself; then you'll know who you're with."

I promised my mother in her last illness that I'd look out for our father, and I kept my word until he behaved so badly that because of my growing son, who worshipped him, I had to ask him to leave my home. I feared the dreadful influence he might have on my boy.

Now who do you think needs the rod—the young ones or the seventy-year-old father who can't keep a rein on himself?

I do hope the "Father of Four" will love his daughters and give them freedom to enjoy themselves while they are young so that they can appreciate being with him and can look back on their youth as a haven of affection, not as a horror of bodily punishment.—Mother of Two.

THE SECOND LETTER

Dear Miss Dixon: When I read about the "Father of Four" and the "spanking business" as told by his daughters in your column, my blood fairly boiled. How I'd like to meet that father and tell him what I think of his ilk.

Miss Dixon, you know that in this country of ours when girls of sixteen and seventeen are not allowed to remain at a nice social gathering until its normal ending, it is outrageous. If we lived in countries where the girls, poor things, were the property of their parents and even of brothers until marriage, and then became enslaved to their husbands, the case might be different.

I cannot understand how any mother or father could be brutish enough to beat grown girls because they happened to be a bit late at a party.

ENJOYED FREEDOM UNMOLESTED

I'm young myself, and have been going to parties with my girl and boy friends since I was fifteen. I was told by my parents never to stay out too late. I went to dances, and when they were over returned home. I went to beaches and stayed all day with boys and girls, swimming and playing games, and when I came home told my mother all about our good times. You know what my dear mother would say? "I'm glad you enjoyed yourself, dear. Have a good time while you're young."

With all these privileges I have as good a reputation as anyone. I know of no one who can truthfully say a harmful word about my character today. But do you know what the boys are saying about those poor, penniless creatures in the home of "Father of Four"? They're saying: "Sure would like to have a date with one of those Goody-Goodyes. When Goody-Goodyes get out, they really are something."

I know, "Father of Four," you'd like to use that rod on me, but I'm in my early twenties and am independent. I have a good job, make my own money, have graduated from high school and business school, and have a host of grand friends, both young men and women.

APPEALS TO "FATHER OF FOUR"

Please, "Father of Four," change your mind and give your young people a little rope instead of a big rod, or one of these days they'll slip out from under and all the rods in the land won't stop them.

"Girls of Sixteen and Seventeen." I hope you'll soon be free to live a normal life, and may God bless you both.—Ma.

These two letters certainly place "Father of Four" on the spot, don't they? But they are only mild examples of the indignation that has poured in on the wake of the "spank the rod and spoil the child" victims.

I hope "Father of Four" will come back with a defence of his system—if he has an adequate defence to offer.

Dominion Board of Anglican W.A. Opens Annual Conference

Delegates From All Parts of Canada Assemble for Fifty-First Yearly Meeting—Lady Lake Presented With Dominion Life Membership

THE fifty-first annual meeting of the Dominion Board of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada opened with a service of Holy Communion held in Christ Church Cathedral yesterday at 10:30 a.m., at which Rev. Harold E. Sexton, D.D., Bishop of Columbia, was the celebrant, assisted by the Dean, Rev. Canon Chadwick, Rev. Canon Nunns, Rev. E. O. Robathan, Rev. S. Ryall and Chaplain, Rev. N. E. Smith.

Rev. Harding Priest preached an eloquent sermon, a fitting preliminary to the vital and important annual meeting of a Dominion-wide missionary organization. The united thanksgiving was presented, augmented by the open offering, at the service. In the service, remembrance was made of the sixteen Dominion life-members, who have passed to higher service during the past year, and reference was made to the late bishop of the diocese.

There were 270 communicants. Mr. Jennings Burnett, officiated as organist, the choir being composed of members of city church choirs. The bells rang out a welcoming peal to the visitors from all over the Dominion, as the congregation assembled.

MEMORIAL HALL

The Memorial Hall presented a beautiful appearance, lavishly decorated with flowers, the stage being backed by a display of banners, while a handsome blue cover with the W.A. cross in gold in the centre made a striking feature on the stage.

At noon the Dominion president called the meeting to order, while announcements were made and greetings read from Mrs. Patterson Hall and many diocesan boards, also from the president of the W.A. of Trinity Cathedral of Duluth, U.S.A., joining in good wishes for the success of the meeting.

Lady Lake read a letter expressing the regret of Mrs. Eric W. Ham-ber at being unable to be present at the luncheon and wishing the Dominion board all success.

THE LUNCHEON

The gymnasium was magnificently decorated for the luncheon at 12:45 o'clock. The convener, Miss Lydia Hill, had surpassed herself in the arrangement of flowers and autumn leaves, the whole effect being most artistic.

Grace was said by Bishop Sexton, who was seated at the guest table with the Dominion president and her officers, also Mrs. Sexton, the Dean and Mrs. Quinlan, Rev. Canon Nunns, Rev. Alan Gardiner and Rev. N. E. Smith. Presidents of parochial branches were the guests of Columbia W.A. diocesan board, with members of the executive and Dominion life-members. There were 165 present at the luncheon, the waitresses being members of out-of-town girls' branches, under the co-ownership of Miss Clair-Belton.

The dean greatly enlivened the proceedings by a characteristic and humorous speech, and an expression of thanks to Columbia W.A. was voiced by one of the executive of the Dominion board.

BUSINESS SESSION

The business session was opened in the Memorial Hall at 2 p.m. with prayers by Bishop Sexton, after which Mrs. Wodehouse expressed the pleasure of the Dominion board at welcoming the bishop upon his first public act with regard to the

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Holmes, whose marriage took place at St. Columba's Church, Strawberry Vale, on Saturday morning, photographed with their attendants, Mrs. M. J. Storey and Mr. Stanley Holmes. The bride was formerly Miss Eileen Berks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Berks, Victoria, and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Holmes, Burnside Road.

W.A.—The bishop's reply conveyed approval of the work of the auxiliary and encouragement in carrying on even to greater and wider efforts.

Short addresses of welcome were given by representatives of the United, Presbyterian and Baptist churches, all of which were gratefully acknowledged by the chair. Special welcome was expressed to Miss Lennox, Miss O'Brien, O.B.E., of Village Island Mission, to Mrs. Kennedy, and several newly-elected presidents.

The address of welcome to the delegates and the Dominion board was effectively given by Lady Lake, and most fittingly replied to by Mrs. C. P. McIntyre, of the Diocese of Fredericton.

HONOR FOR LADY LAKE

The Dominion president then announced that she was called upon to perform a most delightful service, which was to present a Dominion life-membership to Lady Lake, which was responded to by the whole audience rising to a standing tribute while the life-member's admittance service was performed, the gold bar and pin being pinned on by Mrs. Wodehouse, while Mrs. James Dickson presented the framed certificate and Mrs. J. R. Hartley presented a sheaf of lovely flowers. Lady Lake expressed her deep appreciation of the honor done to her with charming sincerity. The gift was from the Diocese of Columbia in recognition of her valuable and inspiring work as president for five years.

Business was resumed, the Dominion president giving an instructive address, for which the thanks of the meeting were expressed by Miss Phipps, vice-president for Western Canada. The reports of the Dominion officers were distributed in printed form and spoken to by each officer, bringing out many points of interest and importance.

The treasurer announced the closing of the Jubilee fund, which amounted to $33,015.82, which is combined with the Roberta E. Tilton fund, and now amounts to $40,579.82. The W.A. contributions to the fund to rebuild the Alaskan hospital amounted to nearly $30,000. Total receipts amount to $11,184.41 from twenty-eight dioceses.

DORCAS REPORT

The report of the Dorcas secretary, Mrs. F. J. Brimer, aroused much interest, the report ever widening the Indian schools and hospitals increase in number and importance. The candidates' secretary, Mrs. Soanes, was authorized by the meeting to send out nine trained missionaries to various fields.

It was announced that the Book of Remembrance had been placed in the hall, under the charge of Miss Margaret Hill, for inspection, also that the flagon donated to the Canadian Women's Exhibition, under the charge of Deaconess Robinson, who is prepared to take members around the cathedral each day.

The mission ships were reported to be in the Inner Harbor and ready for inspection, and at 5 p.m., when the meeting adjourned, the officers were conveyed to the C.P.R. dock to visit the ships.

TODAY'S PROGRAMME

The business session will open today at 9:45 a.m., following an educational conference at 9 a.m. The afternoon drive is planned to start at 1:30 o'clock, following an inspection of St. Christopher's College after luncheon.

Special attention is drawn to the public missionary meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the Memorial Hall, at which the speakers will be Bishop Rix, Rev. Alan Greene, Rev. W. H. Gale and Miss Holley. Mr. Green's address will be illustrated with interesting slides showing the work of the Columbia Coast Mission, along the shores of British Columbia.

Miss Mary Perry was in charge of the devotional period with its theme, "The Spirit of Jesus Giveth Victory." A sacred solo, "Leave It With Him," was sung by Miss Gladys Beall. The Watch Tower section was taken by Mrs. Mussey, her subject being "The Problem of Contact in Africa," resulting from the many different civilizations and races there together. The speaker of the evening was Miss Gardiner, of the staff of the Oriental Home. She gave a delightful and inspiring talk on the work being done in the home, particularly in the kindergarten branch, her own work reports were heard from the various secretaries. A letter was read from Metropolitan Senior W.M.S. inviting Evening Auxiliary members who are free in the afternoon to become senior members. A letter was read from Mrs. Gibson, also of the Presbyterial, concerning Christian stewardship. In the business section, members voted against having the Autumn musicale held annually as in the past. The funds were to be raised by the members themselves. Refreshments brought the meeting to a close after thanks had been suitably expressed to the staff of the Oriental Home for their kind reception. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. M. Irwin, 1642 Hollywood Crescent.

Sooke W.A. The monthly meeting of the Sooke W.A. to the M.S.C.C. Holy Trinity Church, Sooke, will be held at the home of Mrs. George Throup today at 3 p.m.

SPECIAL PLEADING A barrister who was sometimes forgetful, having been engaged to plead the cause of an offender, began by saying, "I know the prisoner at the bar, and he bears the character of being a most consummate, and impudent scoundrel." Here somebody whispered to him that the prisoner was his client, whereupon he continued: "But what great and good man ever lived who was not calumniated by many of his contemporaries?"

Where Age Finds Comfort and Friends

The annual book shower and tea of the Aged and Infirm Women's Home, McClure Street, will take place tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, when friends, old and new, will be welcomed and given the opportunity to see the comfortable house and chat with those in residence.

The Aged and Infirm Women's Home was started in March, 1898, in what was then known as the Old French Hospital. Of the four members who constituted the original committee, Mrs. William Grant is the only one still living, and it is probable that she will be present tomorrow afternoon to greet visitors.

The house had only six bedrooms at first; today it has accommodation for sixty aged women.

Many New Cases Are Attended

The Victorian Order of Nurses had a busy month in September, with a total of 938 visits and 145 new patients. The details, as given in the nurses' report submitted at the regular board meeting yesterday, showed the following analysis of the 938 visits:

Thirty-one prenatal, eighteen to obstetrical cases, eighteen to infants of obstetrical, 192 to postnatal and infants, thirty-eight to communicable, forty-two cancer, sixty-three chronic, 298 others, and 139 there were 662 free visits, and in the four well-baby clinics attended, sixty-two babies were examined.

Donations were gratefully received from the following: Ready to Help Circle of the King's Daughters, Mrs. Aiken, Mrs. Allan, Miss Dawson, Mrs. Frank Richardson, Miss Martin, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Heisterman, Mrs. Nicoll, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Yarrow, Mrs. H. G. Wilson, Mrs. Felton, Mrs. Reade, Mrs. Goulding, Wilson, Lady Barnard, Miss Ravenhill and Mrs. Cameron.

Weddings

WIGHT-WARDELL The wedding was solemnized at the Manse on Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. E. F. Church officiating, between Bernice May, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. Wardell, Young Street, and Mr. Cecil Roy Wight, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wight, 224 Simcoe Street.

Dr. Wardell gave his daughter in marriage and she wore a pretty floor-length frock of powder blue, more taffeta, with a high neckline, finished at the throat with a strand of brilliant, and double cape sleeves. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations, and small white chrysanthemums. Her only bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Theodora Josephine Wardell, in a dainty frock of white orsande with three flounces on the skirt, piped respectively in pink, green and blue, in the pastel shades were a bandeau of pink rge-buds in her hair, and held a bouquet of Michaelmas daisies, creamy-pink chrysanthemums and asparagus fern. Mr. James Wight supported his brother.

A small reception was held later

Many Help In Festival Programme

In the Parish Hall, St. Martin's-in-the-Fields, a successful harvest concert was held on Monday evening, the hall being filled to capacity, and a good programme being furnished by Mrs. C. B. MacGregor. The concert opened with "O Canada," and was followed by the hymn "We Plough the Fields and Scatter the Good Seed on the Land," sung by a band of little children. Mrs. Burns' song, "The Camerons," brought an encore. Mr. McKenzie's "Musical Saw" was warmly applauded. Miss Joan Buckingham's singing met with deserved approval, and Miss Helen Keats' piano selections showed fine execution. Edwin Eade's recitation, "At Grandma's House," was brief, but well in keeping with a schoolboy's idea of bills.

The "Haymakers' Orchestra" gave several instrumental selections, for which encores were demanded, as did also Mrs. W. Thompson's pianoforte pieces. An attractive and amusing "sketch," entitled "Too Many Cakes Spoil the Broth," was put on by the children.

At the close, Harry Rogers and Jack Prew made excellent auctioneers and disposed of a goodly supply of fruits, vegetables and flowers, donated for the purpose, and thus considerably augmenting the church funds.

Little Stories for Bedtime An Indignation Meeting in the Old Orchard By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Jenny Wren was upset. No doubt about it. Jenny Wren was upset. You had only to look at her to know that. Her tail, which she usually carried in the most pert and saucy way imaginable, actually drooped. She had done what she had set out to do. She found out who the stranger in the Old Orchard was, but she had been treated so rudely and she had been told such astonishing things by the stranger that her usual high spirits were quite crushed.

"I never felt so small in all my life," said she as the other feathered folk of the Old Orchard crowded around her after the call on the stranger.

"Then you must have felt mighty small," chuckled Goldie the Oriole. You know, Jenny Wren really is a very little bird—snapped and she turned her back squarely on Goldie. "He actually told me that he liked my house very much and if the doorway was a little larger he would like to move in."

No one knew what to think. Never since anyone could remember had they heard of such a thing. "Do you mean to say that he had the nerve to say that he would have turned you out of your own home if the doorway was larger?" asked Chippy the Sparrow.

Jenny nodded and her eyes snapped with anger. "Yes," she replied. "More than that, he said that there are several houses that he likes the looks of and when he makes up his mind which will suit him best he is going to move in and if there is anyone living there they will have to move out."

Everyone gave a little gasp of astonishment and for a few minutes no one could find a word to say. It was hard to believe that anyone could even think of such a thing, to say nothing of boldly saying that they meant to do it.

"I never heard of such a thing in all my life," declared Chippy. "Did he say that?" asked Goldie. "Yes," she replied. "He said that he is a relative of yours."

"No such thing," declared Chippy hopping up and down with indignation. "No relatives of mine ever talked that way."

MOSLEYITES UNDER FIRE

The blaze was extinguished before much damage was done. The Communist party demand for the banning of the Fascist Union reached the Home Secretary as he was preparing a Cabinet report on Communist-Fascist disorders last Sunday and the Sunday previous, in which many were injured and a large number arrested.

Lashing at "Fascist hoodlums," the party message described the Mosley organization as semi-military, and demanded its uniforms be suppressed and its "baracks" closed down.

Meanwhile the Swansea municipal authorities decided to ban next Sunday's scheduled Fascist meeting in Brangwyn Hall.

Prime Minister Baldwin will preside at tomorrow's Cabinet session for the first time since his long absence from London. Foreign Secretary Eden's report on the international situation will also be discussed.

Three Fascists were given minor sentences in police court today, as a result of Sunday's raid on the Whitechapel Jewish quarter, while Communists were also conducting a demonstration.

Another Officer Hurt Constable McDonald was led from the building, his face covered with blood and his head lacerated scalp covered with sticking plaster. One other officer, Detective Percy Pitts, was bruised on the head. A number of single men, waiting in the hall to get relief allowed due them, were caught in the battle.

Not a chair was left whole in the inner office of the hall.

"All the damage was done before the police arrived," Chief Clerk Thomson said. "They had Constable McDonald down and were kicking him," he said of the initial breaking-in. Thomson got a blow on the head himself.

The leaders of the demonstration entered Thomson's office and demanded use of the telephone. "I got in touch with Mr. Griffiths (E. W. Griffiths, provincial relief administrator, Victoria) and let the spokesman talk to him. What Griffiths said I don't know, but I presume he reiterated that transients are not to be given relief by the Province."

SAYS MARCH ORDERLY After the disturbance, W. A. Munro, spokesman for the Single Unemployed Protection Association, declared: "We were given no chance to hear our delegates' report before police came after us with tear gas. The men who marched in an orderly manner into the hall and did not do any damage. I am sure that the men who were kicked and hit were not the men who marched in an orderly manner into the hall and did not do any damage."

"Didn't I say that he looks like a foreigner?" broke in Welcome Robin, while poor little Chippy hung his head. "I knew the minute I looked at him that he doesn't belong here, but comes from a distant country."

"But he doesn't come from a distant country," said gentle Winsome Bluebird. "It was his ancestors who came from England."

"It's all the same," insisted Welcome Robin. "He doesn't belong here and the sooner we can get rid of him the better. Never in all my life did I ever meet anybody so bold and impudent. If he had been reasonably polite I wouldn't say a word, but it looks to me as if he would make a lot of trouble in the Old Orchard. We ought to do something about it."

Then everybody began to talk at once and their voices were sharp and indignant they tried to decide what should be done. Bully the English Sparrow-heard them—he went about trying to decide which house would suit him best, but he didn't seem to be at all troubled by what he heard. In fact, he chuckled as he listened.

row but well-populated valley south of Cabanatuan, provincial capital.

WORST IN HISTORY Relief workers called the typhoon the worst in modern Philippine history.

The storm developed in the Pacific, southeast of here, and struck the east coast of Luzon Island on Friday. It crossed the island on Friday and Saturday and backlashed on the stricken area on Sunday.

In its northwesterly movement the typhoon crossed the path to be followed by the China Clipper in its flight from San Francisco to Manila with a party of newspapermen.

The clipper resumed its flight westward from Wake Island, however, after the storm blew on northward from Luzon.

FELT FULL FORCE Cabanatuan, about 100 miles from Manila, received the full force of the storm. The little city of 15,000 reported seventy-one known dead and forty-nine missing.

Broken communication lines prevented a checkup of casualties in four nearby villages.

files, but dispersed before the baton-armed police could outside.

NINE MEN ARRESTED Of the nine taken into custody, Fred Grange was charged with obstructing police; Donald Garner, Douglas Rooney, Clifford Smith, Robert Goodfellow, John Lewnas and Stanley Novak with malicious damage, and David Simpson and Richard Molland were held for investigation. Novak was also charged with carrying an offensive weapon, a club.

Those charged will appear in police court tomorrow.

When the demonstrators first entered Hamilton Hall, A. S. Thompson, chief clerk, seeking a peaceful solution, tried to get in touch with Victoria. The first detachment of police, under Chief of Police W. W. Foster, arrived and, with the aid of some of the quieter of the men, cleared the invaders from the inner offices. The men stopped their singing and shouting when a spokesman declared Thompson was trying to get in touch with Victoria.

Further police reinforcements came up and the office staff, including several women clerks and stenographers, were taken outside. The men were then ordered out and tear gas bombs were thrown through the windows. The unemployed burst from the building, crowding through both front doors, some leaping through broken windows. As they came out they were met by a squad of police, and some of them, blinded by the gas, ran right into the arms of the officers and were arrested. A few were knocked sprawling. The majority dashed east on Dunsmuir Street.

Another Officer Hurt Constable McDonald was led from the building, his face covered with blood and his head lacerated scalp covered with sticking plaster. One other officer, Detective Percy Pitts, was bruised on the head. A number of single men, waiting in the hall to get relief allowed due them, were caught in the battle.

DEMONSTRATES ON INSTRUMENT

"The Organ and Its Tone Colors" Subject of Lecture by J. I. Smith

An interested audience listened last night, at Centennial Church, to an illustrated talk by J. I. Smith, assistant organist of First United Church, on "The Organ and Its Tone Colors."

Sponsored by the Young People's Society of Centennial Church, the affair attracted a big audience. Mr. Smith, in his well-arranged material, gave a clear conception of the mechanism of the organ, which he described as "a most interesting instrument, full of possibilities, on which can be produced almost a whisper, or grand massive music, imitating the orchestra, picture a storm with thunder, or the small voice of nature."

ORGAN CONSTRUCTION

The length of the pipe determined the pitch, the longer pipe making the deeper sound. In some of the large organs, he said, the pedal pipes were thirty-two feet long, producing a sound more readily felt than heard. The two, three, four, and five-manual organs were in turn referred to. Each stop-knob controlled a rank of pipes, each rank having at least sixty-one pipes, the number of notes in the keyboard.

Tone color and quality differed in organs, no two builders producing the same tone under the same stop-name. Organ technique consisted of keyboard technique, for the hands; pedal technique, where the notes were played by the feet; and the technique of stop management or "registration." Anyone aspiring to be a great organist had to be master of all three branches of the technique, Mr. Smith said.

"Church people do not take as much interest in their organs as they might," Mr. Smith reminded his audience. It was a good policy, he maintained, for churches buying organs to appoint some outstanding organist to work with the local organist in connection with the choice of an instrument. No organist, however, would tell a first-class builder how to make an organ. An able builder would be suggested by the type of instrument that would be suitable for the building.

Yet this is only one of the ways infection may enter your home. Use "Lysol" in daily housecleaning to help protect your loved ones from the dangerous germs of infection.

EVERY TIME you see a fly—remember that it may carry a multitude of germs. Unfortunately, you cannot see the germs that swarm in every corner of your home. But they're there—no matter how careful you may be about housecleaning. That is why it is so important to disinfect as you clean, with "Lysol." Your doctor will tell you that keeping your home "hospital-clean" with a reliable disinfectant like "Lysol" is an important part of the war on infection. "Lysol" has been used to help protect the famous Dionne Quintuplets against infection—since the very morning they were born, and it is still the only germicide used to disinfect their surroundings.

The story of how "Lysol" is used in the modern Little Daffy Nursery is offered, now, without cost, to all mothers—as a matter of public service and in the hope that it will help them protect their homes, their loved ones, against infection.

music, used by Mr. Smith, were numbers specially selected to illustrate the various tones of the organ and the use of the different stops. For the diapason, he played "Tune," by Walton; to illustrate the swell and reeds, "Lead, Kindly Light" (Sandow); the swell and strings, "Softly and Tenderly"; for solo effects, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Hark a Voice Saith" (Bach); the trumpet stop, "Blow Ye the Trumpet, Blow"; and the full ensemble, "How Firm a Foundation."

To illustrate the organ as a solo instrument he played O. Villiers' Stanford's Prelude on "Angels Song," Holli's "Trumpet Mijuel," the Pastoral Symphony from Handel's "Messiah," two negro spirituals, and the "War March of the Priests" (Mendelssohn).

Mr. W. H. Wilson also sang two much enjoyed vocal solos, "Gesu Bambino" and "Christmas Cradle Song."

What Today Means

"LIBRA" If October 14 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m.

You will have to be thoroughly practical this day, for the testing of theories may cause trouble. Many an injustice will be done due to the wrong conclusion being too hastily drawn. If you have a quick temper and a sharp tongue, keep both under control, for conditions are such that either one can cause a needless amount of worry. Avoid going to ridicule, teasing or threats to gain a point, for they will fall where tact is likely to accomplish miracles. Business men may be misled if they read too hastily reports, letters or contracts because misinterpretation is likely to require careful interpretation. If future involved situations are to be prevented, carelessness in social circles can bring about discordant conditions, so be careful in this respect. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose declaration of love is being seriously considered, must be careful their imagination does not play them strange tricks this day, particularly in the way of fancied dislikes.

If a woman and October 14 is your birthday, guard against being impetuous, for the dynamic nature of those born on this date is largely responsible for most of their troubles. If you would be successful learn to be thrifty. You may be given to expressing yourself too frankly. You ought to have a great amount of charm, fine intuitive powers and plenty of perseverance. You must be wary of flattery, as all as excessive vanity. You may be come well-to-do through some unexpected stroke of good fortune. As a purchasing agent, real estate or insurance broker, trained newspaper woman or teacher you may find the way to rapidly advance your interests. Your domestic affairs are apt to be free from serious worries as love seems to dignify your marital life.

The child born on October 14 generally is inclined, during adolescence, to be very sensitive, extremely susceptible to harshness or criticism. Patience and affection should be lavished on this youngster by its parents.

If a man and October 14 is your natal day, you have probably a vast amount of fortune, charity and common sense. An environment of harmonious conditions is essential to your proper mental development. As an artist, engineer, chemist, author, actor, salesman, financier or manufacturer you are apt to become very prosperous.

UNBEATABLE You can't beat a good Irish carpet. Some husbands have to.

"Bay" Third Floor

CHAPTER XXIV

Tiajuana is not quite such a bad place as some folks say it is. Probably no place is. A sleepy little Mexican town when the United States went dry, Tiajuana, San Diego's next door neighbor—but, fortunately, in the domain of Demon Rum—rubbed its eyes, yawned, looked about and perceived opportunity clanking at its gates.

Fifteen years of prosperity followed. Liquor, horse racing, gambling, dancing—wine, women, song—these brought a steady stream of pilgrims across the line from the virtuous country north, to great a line that new towns sprang up in California to accommodate guests. Tiajuana grew to be a small city. It made money. So did San Diego. The district became the Mecca for pilgrims from every state in the union. Like Coney Island in the old days.

People used to get robbed at Coney, so they did, once in a while, at Tiajuana. But many an American finished a wild party with the loss of memory, and arising to bitter dawn and empty pockets, proceeded to put up a yell that he had been "rolled by Mexicans."

Now and then somebody got killed. Quite true. When intoxicated American egotism, desiring to make the whole world realize in rude contact with a certain small pride that Mexicans have in the Mexican race, things sometimes happened. No doubt murder, deliberate murder, was committed. Just as in peaceful San Diego.

But the amazing thing about Tiajuana was that thousands, hundreds of thousands, could go there and get full of mixed drinks and enthusiasm without anything happening to them except headaches. The Mexicans are a patient people. And like Americans, they are in no haste to kill people who lay golden eggs for them.

So much in defense of the Tiajuana known to every tourist. Beneath this Tiajuana, however, has lived and moved, unseen by the casual guest, another town—the real town, Mexican in every molecule. And like the under self of any town, that personality was dangerous. A border town, like San Diego, it profited by illicit traffic. In liquor, in dope, in aliens, and in men and women slaves and slaves of any color. The demand came from the virtuous United States, Mexico filled the orders and shrugged its shoulders, and continued business on the non-understandable American.

But of this traffic, this vicious personality, the casual tourist saw as much as one can see of the other side of the mirror. Returning, he told wild tales—but, regula is a powerful potion, and so is bar whisky. And he heard tales twice told tales, a thousand times told tales, growing with each telling. His honest heart grew sad at seeing the cafes, the dance halls crowded with girls—American girls, mostly White slaves? Sure! Except that most of them were married to bartenders or musicians, or café owners or circus dealers.

Tiajuana died when beer was again legalized. It is now a ghost town, the veins pinched out. But when Shane O'Hara and Joe Verdugo drove their car across the line that Summer afternoon a thousand cars had preceded them—a thousand—others were straining south along the King's Highway from Los Angeles. Their plan—their immediate plan—had been decided upon the way down. They would go to the house of one of Joe's innumerable cousins on the southern outskirts of the town, and from there make, or set on foot, inquiries which should result in locating the man they sought. Rodrigo—who liked to be known as Vibora-de-Cascabel—the Rattlesnake. When they had covered their tracks, they would seize him as quickly as possible, force him to Shane climbed back into the car, to death. Then the racket stopped abruptly and Shane saw standing in front of the garage a fiver of me-mouth—Mexicans who have colds do this to protect others. he did not make himself conspicuous by the action—pulled his hat down over his eyes and snuffed away.

"STAGE STRUCK"
NOW AT CAPITOL

Dick Powell and All-Star Cast Appear in Musical Revue of The Theatre

The Yacht Club Boys and Frank McHugh want it known that theirs was the honor of starting First National's most ambitious musical, "Stage Struck," which comes to the Capitol Theatre today.

The film got under way with the Y.C.B. Charlie Adler, George Kelly, Jimmie Kern and Billy Mann doing its first official "shot."

The four genial madmen mistake McHugh for the character played by Dick Powell, a Broadway dance director. They're joking, and they pounce on McHugh, Assistant dance director, to put them in a new show.

Before McHugh can escape they're acting and singing all over the place, to the bewilderment and joy of a throng of passers-by. This is one of their acts in their special musical numbers.

"Stage Struck" is a hilarious musical comedy revealing theatrical life behind the scenes. Besides Powell and Miss Blondell, the cast includes Warren William, Frank McHugh, Jeanne Madden, Carol Hughes, Craie Reynolds and Robert Cavanaugh.

Special numbers were written and sung by the Yacht Club Boys, with lyrics and music by E. Y. Harburg and Harold Arlen.

DOMINION It seemed just a case of a big tiger, and Barton MacLane, both appearing in the Warner Bros. picture of circus life, "Bengal Tiger," now at the Dominion Theatre, MacLane has the part of an animal trainer, although he has had little experience with lions and tigers of the jungle variety. MacLane's trainer, Louis Roth, warned MacLane that sometimes a tiger or lion

AND the sooner you put a few drops of this thick piquant sauce on your plate the quicker you'll know how good it is.

Not only does H.P. taste deliciously spicy by itself, but it has the happy faculty of bringing out hidden flavors in meats, fish, fowl, soups and stews, and making them more delicious. The difference a little H.P. can make to a dish of macaroni, baked beans, a poached egg, a salad or a nut which is really immense.

Put H.P. Sauce on today's grocery list.
